CASHWELL FARMS

PRESS RELEASE

Cashwell Farms Announces Initial Blueberry Plant Online Sale

Bare Root Blueberry Plants for Sale for the First Time Through New Website.

Garland, January 16, 2008: Cashwell Farms announced today that for the first time, they will place their regionally well-known Blueberry Plants up for sale to new customers throughout the United States by visiting www.cashwellfarms.com. By acquiring State Certification in mid 2007, the doors opened for Cashwell Farms to share with the rest of the country what they are truly known for in the state of North Carolina... their Blueberry Plants.

"Today is the first day of a new venture for Cashwell Farms. We are excited to finally be able to share with the rest of the country why blueberries are known the world over as one of the most rewarding fruits ever grown," stated Jeffrey Robertson, one of the managers of Cashwell Farms. "If you visit www.cashwellfarms.com, you will now be able to fill out a detailed form and request a number of bare root blueberry plants you would like to purchase. Then one of our representatives will contact you in return to confirm your order and alert you to which types of plants are currently available in our stock."

Cashwell Farms continues to strive towards producing only top quality blueberry plants. Recently they unveiled a new Version 3.0 of their website and continue to expand their online endeavors on a daily basis.

Headquartered in Garland, North Carolina, Cashwell Farms is a locally owned farm, established over 100 years ago. Throughout the years, Cashwell Farms has maintained its vintage sense of belonging to the community by producing the very best blueberry plants throughout the state. Cashwell Farms can be found on the Internet at www.cashwellfarms.com or by calling (910) 529-1469.
